Semester 2: Back To School Plan and Safety Protocols

Semester 2: Back To School Plan and Safety Protocols

As we are preparing to start our Semester 2 classes tomorrow, I just wanted to reconnect to Eastglen’s Back To School Plan. Our safety protocols have been effective overall.

We are aware that the Omicron virus is spread through airborne transmission, meaning that proper mask wearing is going to be critical. We will be providing the second package of medical masks from the province to our students this week. Our staff has sorted these masks into a separate bag for each student and they will be available for pick up at the Learning Commons.

It is important to refer to the Welcome Back videos that we have placed on SchoolZone, Instagram and in Google Classroom. Here is the link to the video pertaining to the Importance of Masks.

For lunch students who are staying in the school are required to go to one of the designated eating areas. They must be seated while they are eating their lunch and having their drinks. This is the only time they will be allowed to have their masks off.

We want families to know that students who are choosing not to comply with our masking requirements will be sent home. Students will be invited to hand sanitize when they enter the school and when entering classrooms.

We are also reminding our students that we have occupancy limitations in our washrooms. Students choosing not to comply with this expectation may also be sent home.

Alberta Health has updated the daily health checklist for children and school staff. Families should use this latest version before sending their child to school. Please continue to complete and follow the guidance on the checklist daily before sending your child to school.

By all of us working together we can mitigate the transmission of the spread of the Covid-19 virus.
